No Casualties Are Reported as Result of 80 to 100 Mile per Hour Winds; Chatham Airport Loses Two Hangars, Two C-47s Are Ruined

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 15 (AP)—A rapidly-moving hurricane swept inland from the Atlantic ocean today, lashing Savannah and its environs with 80 to 100-mile winds, and menacing beach areas with towering waves. No casualties were reported.

First reports indicated limited property damage, but the National Guard said Chatham Airport had been hard hit. Several hangars there were said to have caved in. At least two C-47s belonging to the National Guard were destroyed.

U. S. highway No. 80 into Savannah was still open, but was littered with fallen trees. Worst damage in Savannah appeared to be uprooted trees and smashed windows. The brick front of the Robinson Engineering Company collapsed into Bay street in the downtown section.

Legion Wants State Traffic Survey to Prevent Accidents

Town of Esopus Post Aims to Make Port Ewen Road Safer in the Future

During its meeting last night, Town of Esopus Post, 1298, American Legion, went on record as favoring action to prevent automobile accidents in the village of Port Ewen.

A resolution offered by DeVal H. Dunbar, prompted by the recent death of seven-year-old Helen Marie Relyea, was unanimously adopted by the 50 Legionnaires called to vote upon it by Commander Chester Barth.

The little girl, fatally injured late Monday afternoon when she was struck by the auto of Mrs. Albert E. Ligourie of New London, Conn., according to police, was the sixth pedestrian victim within a comparatively short span of years. It was brought out at the meeting.

Steinman Signs Bridge Contract

Preliminary Work Agreed Upon by Engineer, Bridge Authority

The contract for preliminary engineering and plans for the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge has been signed by Dr. D. B. Steinman, bridge consultant of New York, it was announced today by the New York State Bridge Authority.

Dr. Steinman has perfected his engineering staff and will proceed immediately with the preparation of the plans. Test borings will be made to determine the rock structure which will fix the exact position of the bridge structure across the Hudson and preliminary plans will be prepared for the type of bridge which will be adapted to the site.

Some time ago Dr. Steinman was designated by the Bridge Authority as consulting engineer and a contract covering his services was then drawn up. That contract was submitted to him for signature following a meeting of the Bridge Authority at Hudson on October 8. The contract was then forwarded to him for his signature.

Notice Is Given

Dixie C.O.P. Finds Hunt Is on for Support in South

Washington, Oct. 15 (AP)—Dixie Republicans had advance notice today that the Presidential candidates are coming on an open hunt for support among the 200-odd delegates to a conventionally Democratic states will send to the 1948 C.O.P. convention.

Harold E. Stassen announced that he is heading south in November for speeches and conferences in Little Rock, Ark., Dallas, New Orleans, Gulfport, Miss., St. Petersburg, Fla., and Orlando, Fla. His move may be matched soon by a decision by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) to travel in the same direction.

Taft generally is conceded strong support among the southern delegates. Backers said he can be counted on to try to offset Stassen's attempts to break into this area, which will furnish about one fifth of those eligible to vote on the nomination of a Presidential candidate at next June's Philadelphia convention.

Groves Calls For Control For Safety

Supervisor Writes Letter to State Commission Requesting Action Be Taken at Port Ewen

Probe Continues
District Attorney Says His Office Is Studying Case

"The traffic condition in the village of Port Ewen is one that demands attention immediately," Supervisor John T. Groves, town of Esopus, wrote in a letter to the director of the State Traffic Commission, requesting that action be taken to prevent any more fatal accidents similar to the one late Monday afternoon that fatally injured seven-year-old Helen Marie Relyea, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Relyea of 13 Canal street, Port Ewen.

Investigation continued today into the death of seven-year-old Helen Marie Relyea of Port Ewen in an automobile accident Monday. District Attorney Louis Bruhn announced.

The child was struck by a southbound car as she crossed route 9-W in Port Ewen, in front of Jump's Market. She was caught on the bumper of the car, carried across the highway and crushed against a parked automobile at the curb.

The driver of the car, Mrs. Albert E. Ligourie of New London, Conn., was questioned Monday, and remained overnight in Kingston. She left yesterday afternoon for New London. Mrs. Ligourie and her two daughters had been visiting friends in Woodstock, the sheriff's office said.

Funeral services for the child will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. from the W. N. Conner Funeral Home. Burial will be at Mt. Marion Cemetery.

Supervisor Groves' letter:

October 14, 1947.
Mr. Robert C. George
Director State Traffic Commission
95 Washington avenue
Albany, New York
Dear Mr. George:

Yesterday afternoon, October 13, we experienced another tragedy on the streets of the village of Port Ewen, in which a little girl was struck and killed while attempting to cross the street right in the heart of the village.

The traffic condition in the village of Port Ewen is one that demands attention immediately. I have asked the assistance of the State Troopers and the State Highway Department to help all.

The hurricane was a part of the storm that swept over southern Florida Saturday and Sunday. It swept out Atlantic City and traveled northward. Yesterday it developed a second center. It was this second center that developed rapidly in intensity late yesterday and turned into the Georgia coast.

The Miami Weather Bureau said earlier hurricane force winds were about 75 miles wide and the strongest would prevail between Darien, Ga., and Parris Island, S. C.

High tides were a major threat to the low coastal areas, most of which were evacuated along the 300-mile South Carolina-Georgia coast.

The water was pounding over the seawall in Charleston Harbor and backing up in storm sewers to flood streets in some portions of the famous old Battery section. Cellars were flooding.

Gusts up to 45 miles an hour were reported at Charleston airport at 5:30 a. m., but the wind had died to 20 miles at 7:15 a. m. and the sun peeked out.

Meanwhile, southern Florida continued to battle raging floods caused by heavy rains which accompanied the storm as it swept across the peninsula over the week-end.

A state of emergency was declared at Fort Lauderdale, Ft. Lauderdale, Springs and Hialeah, Fla. Miami also lay in the path of the wall of water rushing from the Everglades to the sea. City and state health authorities opened clinics to administer inoculations against typhoid. Schools were closed in many communities.

Boy, 14, Is Drowned in Hudson River; His Body Is Recovered; Becomes 10th Drowning Victim in Ulster This Year

Merchants to Raise $8,000 for Yuletide Lighting in City

All Groups Hold Meeting to Discuss Decorations; Will Send Letters of Appeal

A drive to raise approximately $8,000 for an elaborate city-wide Christmas street lighting and decoration program was launched today after a meeting of representatives of all merchant groups of Kingston.

The money will be raised by merchants on the basis of $1 to $2 per front foot in most areas. In the downtown area, however, size of contributions will be left up to the individual managers or proprietors.

Plans call for laurel roping to stretch across the streets from lamppost to lamppost with gay-colored lights. In the central Broadway section lighted Christmas trees will stand on top of each lamppost with laurel roping draped below them.

It will be the most extensive program of street decoration ever undertaken in Kingston. Don Williams, executive chairman of the Chamber of Commerce, announced.

Decorations will be placed in the following areas: from the ferry slip on the Strand to Broadway; up Broadway to the Orpheum Theater; from Pine Grove avenue; up Broadway as far as Downs street; from the Governor Clinton Hotel up Clinton avenue to Main street; up Main as far as Wall street; Wall street and Fair street; between Main and N. Front streets; and N. Front street between Clinton and Washington avenues.

Henry Singer, chairman of the Downtown Businessmen's Christmas Lighting Committee, announced that his group had pledged more than $1,000. George Snyder, chairman of the central business section committee, said $500 had been pledged so far in his area.

Beginning today, letters will be sent out to 250 merchants—exclusive of the downtown section where size of contributions will be at the discretion of individuals—by Byron S. Chatham, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce, Recreation Division, Christmas Lighting Committee.

Each letter will suggest the donation of an amount based on the front footage of the recipient of the letter. During the next two weeks committee members will call upon each merchant, and the committee hopes the entire fund will be raised by October 25.

The drive to obtain funds from the merchants "is a reasonably successful, a contract would be entered into with the G. A. Trehan Co. of Cohoes, and a general community-wide solicitation made for the balance of the funds," Chatham announced.

The Trehan company gave a bid of $6,670, the Chamber of Commerce announced.

Fires in Adirondacks
Albany, N. Y., Oct. 15 (AP)—Forest fires burned in scattered areas of the Adirondacks today as Conservation Department officials considered closing of the underdry woodlands to the public.

A spokesman indicated the department would ask Governor Dewey to close the woods because of the prolonged drought and a development of a fire hazard, described by officials as "the worst in years." Closing of the woods would delay the scheduled opening Monday of the deer hunting season in the Adirondacks. Many hunters already were in camp awaiting the opening, conservation officials said.

Mrs. Nessel will play both the piano and accordion. Forest Goodenough, who will play several piano solos including some of his own compositions, and flute selections, has just returned from Indianapolis, Ind., where he participated in the centennial of the Indiana State School for the Blind of which he is an alumnus.

One of his compositions dedicated to the school was played by a 100-piece orchestra.

Company to Provide Year's Vacation in 1956

Los Angeles, Oct. 15 (AP)—The American Electric Motors Inc., of Los Angeles, announced today a plan to give one year paid vacations to employees who have completed 10 years service.

The company, established in 1939 to produce electric motors, dynamometers and generators for the army and navy during the war, was reorganized in 1946 and the 10-year qualifying period starts from then so the first such vacations will be in 1956. There are 50 fulltime employees, about one-third of whom have been with the concern since its reorganization.

Phillip W. Zonne, vice president and treasurer, said that "primarily we are seeking to build a permanent family of steady-working faithful employees and prevent any management-employee problems."

500 B'nai B'rith Delegates to Be Here for Week-End

Upstate Fall Conference Scheduled Two Days, President Ewig to Preside

Saturday and Sunday approximately 500 B'nai B'rith men and women delegates and members of lodges and chapters of B'nai B'rith comprising the Upstate Council of New York, will be in attendance at the council's fall conference to be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel and the B'nai B'rith clubhouse.

Arthur B. Ewig, president of the Upstate Council and the past president of the Kingston Lodge of B'nai B'rith told a Freeman reporter today that the convention committee is going all out to make this one of the biggest and best Upstate Council meetings in history and the program that has been arranged will out do all previous conventions held thus far.

Dignitaries and other prominent in B'nai B'rith work are scheduled to attend the sessions which will be open not only to official delegates but to all B'nai B'rith men and women their friends, all of whom are being urged to avail themselves of the opportunity to see and hear B'nai B'rith in action.

Sessions will be held during the afternoon and early evening of Saturday and the morning and afternoon of Sunday. Present will be Irving Glusman, Toronto president of the District, Grand Lodge No. 1 of B'nai B'rith as well as others heading the several departments of the order.

Rabbi Roland D. Gittelsohn, the famous chaplain of the Two Jims campaign who had received the Navy Commendation Ribbon as the action was taken at a meeting of delegates last night. At the same time, local 825 Operating Engineers was reelected in the council. The local had been expelled last spring after labor difficulties in Newburgh.

The rupture came after the engineer's local failed to abide by a decision of the Building Trades Department in Washington concerning the operating of an electric welding machine on a West Point job. A spokesman for the Council said.

The reinstatement of the local in Ulster County council came after similar action by the Newburgh Building Trades Council. It was reported that the Plumber's union and the Carpenter's union, who have been involved in a series of controversies with the engineers, were considering withdrawal from the Newburgh council in protest against the reinstatement.

Restaurants Are Opened
New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—Twenty-nine children's restaurants, closed since October 1 by a strike, opened for breakfast today. The approximately 2,300 employees who struck were members of Local 42, Chain Service Restaurant Employees (A.F.L.). They reached a settlement with the company Sunday at the offices of the State Mediation Board.

Under the new terms, non-service employees will work a five-day 40-hour week beginning February 1, and receive the same pay as for a six-day week, with overtime pay at the rate of time and a quarter. Waiters and waitresses will receive an increase of seven cents an hour, bartenders an increase of $2 a week, and kitchen employees five cents an hour more.

Charles Luckman, chairman of the food committee, announced modification of meatless Tuesdays to permit use of some meat by-products, including liver and kidneys.

The committee's program to continue poultryless and eggless Thursday will be continued, Luckman said, in its efforts to conserve grain.

69 Persons Rescued From Fuelless Plane

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—Sixty-nine men, women and children were safe today aboard a Coast Guard cutter which rescued them from a huge flying boat ditched in mid-Atlantic. They survived an ordeal of mountainous waves and terror of imminent death.

Seventeen men and one woman rode a life raft perilously to safety from the plane to the Coast Guard cutter Bibb as dawn broke on the gate-whipped Atlantic. The Coast Guard announced they joined 51 fellow passengers and crewmen of the big Bermuda Sky Queen, which settled near the cutter yesterday when fuel ran low.

The Bibb's skipper, Capt. Paul B. Cronk, radioed that the cutter was leveling her guns to destroy the flying boat so it would not be a "menace to navigation."

Building Council Backs Policemen

Operating Engineers Are Rescued; Expelled in Spring

Sam Doyle, president of the Ulster County Building and Construction Trades Council (A.F.L.), announced today that delegates of the Council had endorsed unanimously the proposal to increase the salaries of city policemen.

The council includes the following local unions: Bricklayers and Plasterers, Chauffeurs, Engineers, Electricians, Iron Workers, Laborers, Metal Lathers, Painters, Sheet Metal Workers, Plumbers and Steamfitters, Roofers, Terrazzo Workers, Tile and Mosaic Workers.

The action was taken at a meeting of delegates last night. At the same time, local 825 Operating Engineers was reelected in the council. The local had been expelled last spring after labor difficulties in Newburgh.

Wicks Asks Ulster Back Amendments In Coming Election

Speaks Before Kingston Lion and Backs Aid for Europe's Hungry at Once

State Senator Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston, yesterday urged overwhelming support by residents of Ulster County for proposed constitutional amendment six which he said would enable the state to construct a ski trail on Bell Ayr mountain, near Pine Hill.

The proposed amendment is one of six which will be voted upon in the November election.

"There are millions of acres of forest preserve land," Senator Wicks said at a luncheon meeting of the Kingston Lions Club. "Citizens of the state should be permitted to use a few of those acres for ski trails."

Citing the great interest in skiing and the crowds of New Yorkers who jam aboard trains heading for the Adirondacks, the senator said:

"Why not bring them up to this God-blessed country of ours—Ulster County? We ought to get some of that business. I hope Ulster County gives this amendment its overwhelming approval."

Senator Wicks also urged approval of the first four amendments, and said the fifth—creation of a new judicial district comprising Queens, Nassau and Suffolk counties—was a "controversial matter." His own party, he said, favored it, as did he himself.

He predicted a "overwhelming vote" in favor of the first amendment, which would authorize a soldier bonus.

Discussing the third proposed amendment, which would empower the state legislature to fix the salaries of its own members, Senator Wicks said he believed a higher salary would "attract men who can devote more time to their jobs." As it is now, he said, members of the assembly often must take care of their own businesses at the expense of the Assembly.

He recommended a yes vote for each of the three propositions which also will be before the people on election day. The first, which would provide for an additional debt of $35,000,000, is necessary for storm clearance and housing, he said.

"It is cheaper for you as taxpayers to vote yes for this proposition than it would be to have the prisons and hospitals of the state filled with young people," the senator said.

Discussing the investigation of the State Education Department, the senator said it was "merely administrative investigation" designed to improve efficiency. He said the department hadn't been investigated for 20 years and "we thought it was about time for one."

For Aid to Europe
Senator Wicks said there had been conflicting reports on the need of European countries for food but said he felt that "where there is any doubt, the safe thing to do is send it to them and not wait for congressional reports."

"Without bread, you have riots," he said. "Every prison break in this state has had as its basis poor food or lack of food. People with empty bellies are fertile ground for Communists."

President Walter Donnaruma of the Lions Club reported that Dr. Edward C. Fuller, president of Bard College, would address the

Roosevelt Peoples Was Playing With Others When He Disappeared Suddenly

Coroner Is Called

Kelly Gives Accidental Death Verdict After Investigation

The body of Roosevelt Peoples, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Peoples of 281 North street, was recovered from the Hudson river near the Hutton Brickyard about 10:10 p. m., Tuesday night after the youth had been reported as missing since about 8:22 o'clock.

Coroner Ernest A. Kelly, who investigated, today issued a verdict of accidental death due to drowning. This is the 10th accidental drowning in Ulster county this year, Sheriff George Smith told The Freeman today.

In announcing the number of victims due to drowning, Sheriff Smith included Samuel Deasutte, a seaman aboard the "Christie 100," a stone barge of the Callan Co., who was reported to have drowned in the Hudson river last Wednesday.

According to the police, young Peoples had been playing games with a number of other boys on the Hutton brickyard dock when he suddenly disappeared. The police were first notified of the accident by the youth's parents about 8:22 p. m.

Rowboat Is Used
A rowboat owned by Anthony Alecca was enlisted when officials arrived at the scene and grappling for the body was conducted by Captain Edward J. Fagan of the County Fire Station. Deputy George Matthews and Fireman Daniel Noble of the Central Fire Station, Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy also was at the scene and assisted in the operation. Officers Walter Van Steenburg and Francis Egan of the police department also were summoned.

Young Peoples was a student in the seventh grade at Public School No. 4 where he was actively engaged in baseball and volleyball. It was learned today. He also was a member of the Junior American Citizenship Club of that school.

He is survived by his parents, Thomas and Oler Peoples; three sisters, Nazarene, Moude and Pixia and four brothers, Thomas, Jr., Joe Louis, Scott and Haywid Peoples, all of Kingston.

Funerals may call to the River View Baptist Church, 240 Catherine street, Thursday between the hours of 5 and 10 p. m., where funeral services will be held on Friday at 2:30 p. m. Burial will be in the Mt. Zion Cemetery.

Loss Is Estimated

Rats Destroy 200 Million Bushels of Grain Yearly, Is Report

Washington, Oct. 15 (AP)—The Fish and Wildlife Service estimated today that rats are destroying American grains at the rate of 200,000,000 bushels a year. This is more than one-third of the amount the United States is planning to export for relief of hunger in Western Europe this winter. It is twice as much as President Truman has asked the nation to save through his "waste less" program.

Albert M. Day, director of the agency, said that at current prices the destroyed grain represents $300,000,000, the greatest dollar loss from rats in U. S. history.

Day told reporters a survey shows that four percent of the annual grain production in the United States is lost to human consumption through loss or damage inflicted by rats.

Byrnes Declares Russia, If Eastern Reich Is Held, Must Learn as Hitler Did

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—Should Russia attempt permanent retention of its present hold on eastern Germany, the United States and other nations "must be prepared to assume the obligation that then clearly will be ours," former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes says in his newly published memoirs.

Russia "must learn what Hitler learned—that the world is not going to permit one nation to veto peace on earth," Byrnes declared, adding:

"I hope, believe and pray that the leaders of the Soviet Union will never force us to this course of last resort."

In his book, "Speaking Frankly," published by Harpers, Byrnes proposed that Russia and other nations be invited to a peace conference to work out a treaty for Germany and expressed belief that the Soviet Union would not reject such an invitation "and thus isolate itself from the rest of the world."

"If it should, I do not believe the Red army would try to hold permanently all of eastern Germany. However, if I misjudge them, and they do go to the point of holding eastern Germany and vetoing a Security Council directive to withdraw occupation forces, we must be prepared to assume the obligation that then clearly will be ours."

Byrnes wrote that the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt had "grave misgivings" about the future of Soviet-American relations and that one hour before he died he messaged Winston Churchill that although most differences with Russia seemed to "straighten out," we must be firm, however, and our course thus far is correct.

Says F.D.R. Advice Good

The one-time "assistant president" said Roosevelt's advice "is as good today as it was on the day it was written," and added:

"It is idle to speculate on what the course of history would have been had President Roosevelt lived but these messages dispose of the legend that our relations with the Soviet Union began to deteriorate only after his death."

He related details of the cabinet controversy over the speech of Secretary of Commerce Wallace at last year in which Wallace attacked this country's foreign policy while Byrnes was attending the Paris peace conference.

When he learned of the speech, Byrnes said, he sent a message to President Truman reminding him that he had submitted his resignation the preceding April on the advice of his physician, the resignation to take effect on completion of the treaties.

He added he told Mr. Truman that if it was not made clear to Wallace he must, as a cabinet member, withhold criticism of U. S. foreign policies, he (Byrnes) "must ask you to accept my resignation immediately."

Wallace resigned shortly afterwards and Byrnes said "confidence in the American policy was restored."

Asserting that they constitute a "good general signpost" for determining Russia's "expansionism" now, Byrnes disclosed details of secret Russian demands made on Nazi Germany in 1940.

He said that the demands were pressed by Vyacheslav M. Molotov on Adolf Hitler in a two-day conference which eventually led to the break-up of the Soviet-German pact and war between the two powers.

At that time, Byrnes asserted, Molotov made a "major diplomatic blunder" by insisting on substantial discussions regarding Iran, the Dardanelles, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Greece, the future of Poland and Swedish neutrality.

Marshall to Give Speech to C.I.O.

Delegates Prepare Debate on Foreign Policy; Resolution Is in Making

Boston, Oct. 15 (AP)—The C.I.O. Convention got more exciting today as Secretary of State Marshall headed here for a mid-afternoon speech (3 p. m., E.S.T.) and 600 delegates prepared for a lively foreign policy debate.

It was Marshall's first address before a labor convention. The foreign policy debate was scheduled later in the day, after the Marshall speech.

A resolution calling for unity of the big powers and American economic aid to other nations was almost sure to pass without serious controversy, since it has been carefully framed by leaders of both the right and left wings of the C.I.O. meeting in committee.

But, outspoken leaders like

Walter Reuther were expected to take the opportunity to give their views on the international crisis.

Yesterday the convention:

1. Heard Secretary of Labor Schwelienbach argue that wage increases are not solely to blame for high prices. He also spoke against "reactionaries" in the labor movement—meaning Communists. Later he told reporters that unions should throw out all Communists "by the seat of the pants."

2. Heard more speeches blasting the Taft-Hartley Labor Act. And then by unanimous standing vote approved a resolution denouncing the law in strong language.

President Philip Murray spoke about the non-Communist affidavit which unions must provide in order to file complaints or petitions before the National Labor Relations Board.

He said this provision of the law was "revolting to any decent-thinking person."

But he repeated that each C.I.O. union is perfectly free to file the affidavits if it wants to.

Murray's own United Steelworkers Union has determined not to file the affidavits.

Speaking at a dinner meeting of truck line operators only half mile from the C.I.O. Convention, Rep. Fred A. Hartley, Jr., co-author of Taft-Hartley Law, said he "welcomed the challenge" of labor's criticism and did not fear threatened "purge" of the law's advocates.

He said that if the C.I.O. and A.F.L. wanted to do "a real job of purging, purge the Commies in your unions and you'll be doing a good job."

YOUR NIGHTS DIVIDED QUARTERS DOLLARS

Secured in a Home? Or lost in Rent Receipts?

That is a question you must decide for yourself and it is an important question. If you stop to consider the total amount of money you have paid or will pay in rent over a period of years, and then consider what it would cost you to buy your own home, you would find to your amazement that your rent would exceed the cost of the home. The money paid as rent is lost, but money paid into a home is security.

Why not investigate further by consulting officers of our bank who will be glad to explain to you our Home Buying Plan. They will show you how you can pay for your home over a period of years... eventually giving you home ownership.

Let us help you in your home buying decisions.

Lewis Faces New Battle Over His U.M.W. Collection

Threat Is That Lewis Might Take Walk With 600,000 Workers

San Francisco, Oct. 15 (AP)—John L. Lewis, stripped of a vice-presidency in the A.F.L. after an historic outburst of name-calling among the federation's top leaders, faced still another battle today over his miscellaneous collection of unions in Mine Workers' District 50.

Underneath the current of bitterness which swept the 66th annual convention was the growing threat that Lewis still might take a walk with his 600,000 United Mine Workers over the District 50 controversy.

His organizers have been stepping on a lot of toes within the federation, even since his return to the A.F.L. in January 1946.

But anti-Lewis forces, cheered by the ease with which their overwhelming numbers set down the U.M.W. president yesterday, went right on with plans to bring the jurisdictional squabble with District 50 before a tribunal which he could not control.

The fight was due to come over conflicting resolutions offered by a majority of the resolutions committee headed by a long-time Lewis critic, John P. Frey of the metal trades department, and a minority represented by Thomas

Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the U.M.W.

Lewis took the gloves off in his first convention speech yesterday, stinging the leadership into fighting mood by calling them "intellectually fat and stately asses," and adding:

"On this issue I don't think the federation has a head. I think its neck has just grown up and haired over."

Refers to Affidavits

The issue he referred to was the signing of non-Communist affidavits. That's what started the convention floor battle which was perhaps the hottest since Lewis toppled William L. Hutchison, the Carpenters' boss, with one punch at the Atlantic City convention in 1935. Lewis took his miners out of the federation after that and formed the C.I.O. He fell out with the C.I.O. after 1940, however, and made his peace again with the federation six years later.

Hutchison, who helped to persuade Lewis to get back in the A.F.L. and backed him up on the affidavit fight within the 15-man executive council, failed to vote with him when the convention by standing vote overwhelmingly decided to amend its constitution and do away with its 13 vice-presidencies.

Lewis would not sign the Taft-Hartley affidavit disavowing Communism, saying it was an insult. He shouted that those who wanted to comply were groveling "on their bellies."

Since the act says no union can use the machinery of the National Labor Relations Board unless its officers have signed the affidavits, the 1,500 federal locals whose only national officers are the A.F.L. officers would have been left in the cold by Lewis' refusal to comply. The convention decided to abolish the office of vice-presidents, so Lewis would no longer be classed as an officer. This would "protect" the federal unions, President William Green said.

Only Green and Secretary-Treasurer George Meany remain as officers of the A.F.L. now, and they both will sign the affidavits. Lewis would have been classed as 11th council member, but the unwilling mine leader said:

"If you elect to take this astounding action, I can only say to you that you will be voting this speaker off the council of the A.F.L. I will not be a candidate for election to this debased board."

However, he might permit another mine worker to serve instead.

Park Avenue Cool To Midway Proposal

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—Residents of Park avenue, sometimes called the wealthiest street in the world, are disturbed by a proposal to make the street an exhibition area for the city's golden jubilee.

A clergyman, an apartment house operator and a hotel president were among those who yesterday voiced opposition to a city committee's proposal for a midway and exposition hall in the center of the avenue between 46th and 57th streets next fall in commemoration of Greater New York city's 50th anniversary.

The Rev. Dr. George Paul T. Sargent, rector of St. Bartholomew's Protestant Episcopal Church, declared that "with the sad condition of the world's people, to make them feel that New York is 'hi-diddle-diddle' while the cat is fiddling will not increase their respect and devotion toward us."

Douglas L. Elliman, head of a real estate firm operating apartment houses, asserted Park avenue is "a dignified residence and hotel avenue, and I don't like to see it made into a midway."

Frank A. Ready, president of the hotel Waldorf-Astoria which fronts on Park avenue, said he did not like the idea of "putting a merry-go-round" in front of his hotel.

Earlier, Mayor William O'Dwyer had questioned whether the proposed Park avenue fete would be "in good taste, in view of world conditions."

The June bride was back from her honeymoon and was experiencing her first lesson in household shopping, and going up to the meat counter, she said:

Hilda—I want something nice for breakfast-for say two, something nice, you know.

Butcher—Some people like sausages.

Hilda—Well, I'll take half a—er—a yard.

Grocer—Oh, I see. Yes, no, of course, half a pound. And I want some eggs for boiling, vegetables, and—

Grocer—How would you like an eggplant?

Hilda—Oh, can you grow them at home? I thought—yes, but I wish I could get something, a red vegetable for my little china set.

Oh! Beets! A quart of red beets. That's all. And can you send them to Miss Margaret Black, 17 Plum street.

She fluttered out of the store but was back in a minute, flushed and blushing.

Hilda—Oh, I forgot something. I wanted to order a dozen wheat cakes to go with those sausages. And I made a mistake in the name and address. Send the things to Mrs. Philip Masters, 431 Elm street, instead of Miss Black at 17 Plum street.

As we go down Main street and see the girls in slacks we are becoming convinced that the "little woman" is rapidly becoming extinct.

Young Lady—Do you like bananas?

The hard-of-hearing man hesitated before replying. Then she asked the same question again, but a bit louder.

Man—No, I prefer the old-fashioned night gowns.

Fact! The guys who think our jokes are rough.

Would quickly change their views if they compare the ones we print.

It's the true story of a man who took treatment, used all kind of remedies for his sciatic, nerve pains without being helped in the slightest degree. Mr. Robert Jordan of Colon, Mich., suffered agony from pains in his hip—back—neck—arms. The pain at times was so bad that he couldn't sit down. He tried several different treatments, many different medicines, of which did him no good. He couldn't work. Life was misery for him.

Then one day he saw an advertisement of Muscle-Rub—the doctor's prescription—and desperation brought a bottle. He used it as directed and in 3 days the pains were relieved and Mr. Jordan was back on the job.

man who never lived—the legendary woodlogger Paul Bunyan.

The man who thought he had found something here he hadn't found elsewhere who picked up a brilliant stone in 1894 and thought it was a diamond.

Well, it wasn't. By the time New York experts got around to deciding it was only quartzite, the town of Bemidji had been born.

There were no diamonds but the whole area was a sea of emeralds—great stands of forest pine that made it a lumber center. Tales of Paul Bunyan, the granddaddy woodlogger of them all, became folklore of the region, and a number of years ago Bemidji staked out its claim as Paul's home town.

Townpeople built a twenty-foot painted concrete statue of Paul and "Babe," his blue ox, on the shores of Lake Bemidji. The monument is visited annually by an estimated 300,000 vacation tourists.

In the adjoining colorful "fire-side of states," built with stones from every state in the union, they hear tall stories of the mighty Paul, such as:

How his hotcakes were cooked on a griddle as big as a pond, greased by ten swimmers who skated across it with slabs of bacon tied to their feet.

How the "winter of the blue snow" was caused by Paul swearing blue streaks after hitting his thumb with a 16-pound hammer.

Conversation froze in the air that terrible winter, and when spring came and melted it there was a terrific din of backed-up words.

How it took one man's full time to keep Paul's pipe shoveled full of tobacco. Everytime he took a puff the loggers thought it was a new forest fire.

How Bunyan built a bunkhouse so large the top stories were hinged in order to let the moon go by—and a cookhouse so large one cook got lost between the flour bin and root cellar, and almost starved before he was found.

How the blue ox "Babe" once made the Mississippi river flow backward by taking too deep a drink, and created Minnesota's 10,000 lakes by her stamping and pawing.

How Bunyan's camp bookkeeper, Johnny Inkstinger, ran a hose from a barrel of ink to his pen and thus invented the fountain pen. He saved five barrels of ink one winter by not crossing his "X's" or dotting his "i's."

How Paul and his men, hearing Kansas was covered by whiskey trees, went down to set up lumber camps there. Between drinks they cut down all the whiskey trees—and Kansas is still dry to this day.

In Bemidji the local residents feud with other Minnesota communities claiming cold weather records—it fell to 45 degrees below zero last winter. They're proud here of the nickname—"America's Icebox."

There's a good reason. "When people start looking for a place to vacation from the summer heat," explained H. Z. "Heinie" Mitchell, editor of the Bemidji Pioneer, "they remember our icebox climate."

And that's as big a lure as Paul Bunyan himself. The real diamonds of Bemidji turned out to be its winter iceicles.

Churchill Says Russian Attitude Doesn't Mean War

Much of Radio Propaganda and Abuse of World Is for Internal Consumption

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—Winston Churchill says he would be sorry if Russia and nations close to her walked out of the United Nations but that he does not necessarily believe that would lead to war.

Nor does the wartime British prime minister believe that Russia's "violently aggressive line" of current propaganda is "the prelude to war," he said last night in a radio broadcast (C.B.S.) from England to the Alfred E. Smith Memorial Foundation dinner here.

"It may be that the Soviet government and their Communist fifth columns in so many countries will, at some moment or other, quit the United Nations organization," Churchill said. "Then there would be what is called two worlds, and we should all be sorry to see that."

"If one of these worlds is far more powerful than the other and is equally vigilant, and is also sincerely desirous of maintaining peace, there is no reason why a two-world system should lead to war."

As for "an unceasing stream of abuse upon the western world" which he said "the Soviet governments have poured out through their radio, in 26 languages," Churchill said he believed it was for "internal purposes."

The memorial foundation, devoted to aiding the poor, has raised $3,000,000 toward a $5,000,000 Alfred E. Smith Memorial Wing for St. Vincent's Hospital here.

The dinner speakers included Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Secretary of Defense James Forrestal, Warren Austin, permanent United States delegate to the United Nations; Mayor William O'Dwyer, Francis Cardinal Spellman, Catholic archbishop of New York and foundation president, and Charles H. Silver, president of Beth Israel Hospital and vice president of the foundation. An estimated 2,500 attended.

Dewey said that "no agency of government can ever use money so wisely or well as privately managed or sponsored institutions," and said he was against government control of operation of hospitals.

All the speakers paid tribute to the memory of Smith, the late governor of New York and presidential candidate.

To Explain Voting Machines; Unusual Setup This Year

Because of the number of propositions which will be submitted to the voters this fall, the matter of setting up the voting machines will present unusual complications for the custodians and inspectors this year.

Percy Jones, Kingston city custodian, will conduct a meeting for custodians October 22, at 7:30 o'clock at the Wiltwyck Engine House on Fair street. At that time he will instruct custodians in installation and operation of voting machines. All custodians and inspectors, either from the city or county may attend this meeting and have shown them the operation of the machines.

At the Board of Elections office it was said that this meeting would provide an excellent opportunity for anyone interested in the installation and operation of the machines from the county as well as the city to have the operation explained.

It's to your interest to know about this proposed feather-bedding!

For sheer feather-bedding, this mock work proposal takes the cake. But it is only one of 44 "rules" demands filed by the leaders of the operating unions. If all these demands were granted, they would cost the railroads an added BILLION DOLLARS A YEAR.

Increased Wages, Too

On top of these "rules" changes, the leaders of the operating unions have filed an additional demand for a wage increase of over 30 per cent. If granted, this would be an added cost to the railroads of $400,000,000 a year.

$468,000,000 To Non-Operating Employees

In addition to this, an Arbitration Board has just granted a wage increase of 15½ cents an hour to the million employees represented by the 17 non-operating unions. This will cost the railroads $468,000,000 a year.

Where Will The Money Come From?

Where will all the money come from to pay these increases? They total several times as much as the railroads made in 1946 or will make in 1947.

In July, the railroads filed an application for increased freight rates to close the gap which then existed between wage and material costs, and railroad revenues. Since then it has been necessary, because of further increases in wages and material costs, to supplement that petition and to ask for an additional freight rate increase. No other course is open.

Railroads Do Not Run For Employees Alone

Railroads are operated for the benefit of not one, but several groups—shippers, passengers, employees, stockholders, and the general public. The interest of all must be served—and that cannot be done unless the railroads can operate efficiently and economically, and unless they are allowed to earn sufficient revenue to provide the kind of transportation service this country MUST HAVE.

Club to Centralize Activity in County

Woodstock, Oct. 15—The Progressive Citizens of America has decided to centralize its activity for the Ulster County Chapter in Kingston rather than Woodstock. This decision was made following a conference at the state headquarters of the organization in New York, attended by Chairman Richard Burlingame and Alf Evers of Woodstock who gave their report at a recent meeting of the local chapter held at the home of Mrs. Philip Fitz Patrick, Woodstock.

This organization has gone on record as favoring the amendments concerning housing and veterans legislation in the coming elections and they hope every member of their group will vote for these amendments.

With regard to local elections, it was learned that before endorsing any candidates, the P.C.A. will present questionnaires to both parties to ascertain their platforms on various issues of interest to the group.

Chairman Burlingame reported on the hospital art program which will continue to function through the winter months at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital. Plans are being formulated in the various towns in the county for the projection of local problems pertinent to the area. Mr. Burlingame also reported the addition of many new members in Kingston.

Home Bureau Hears

Talk About Library

Woodstock, Oct. 15—Miss Mosier of the New York State Library was the guest speaker at the Woodstock Home Bureau meeting held on October 9 at the home of Mrs. Kathryn VanNess. In her talk, Miss Mosier described the aim of the library which primarily was to get more people interested in books.

"The traveling library," said

Miss Mosier, "made books available to small communities where there is no library. The book shelf could be set up in the post office or store. The books are changed every six months or more often, if necessary, and any type of book can be borrowed, particularly books of information."

One of the book shelves referred to by Miss Mosier was displayed and she reviewed some of the books thereon including How to Disappear for an Hour, by William L. Clayton, a humorous story; House Divided by Ben Ames Williams—story of the south and the Civil War and their attitude toward Lincoln; Big Sky by G. G. Guthrie—a frontier story of the Oregon Trail and the fur trade; Three Came Home by Agnes H. Keith, story of a country station; Campy Clarkton by Howard Fast—story of strikes and labor unions (excellent for discussions); Right as Rain by Bernice Richmond—story of family life with a Maine grandmother; Americans All by Harry Shaw—short stories of Americans by adoption; The Other Room by Winthrop Haddon—story of a Virginia teacher in a Negro school in New Orleans; So Dear to My Heart by Stirling North—folklore and ballads.

"The most worthwhile children's books come from Woodstock," said Miss Mosier, but briefly described a few others.

Albert Graeser Is New

Memorial Design Head

Woodstock, Oct. 15—Wilma Harvey, president of the Woodstock War Memorial, has announced the appointment of Albert Graeser, well known architect residing in Woodstock, as chairman of the Design Committee, following the resignation of Eugene Ludins. Mr. Ludins in his letter of resignation to Miss Harvey stated that he is preparing for an exhibition in New York next month, which necessitates his spending much time away from Woodstock. He will, however, continue as a member of the Design Committee.

Because of this change in the chairmanship, all designs or ideas for designs should now be submitted to Albert Graeser, Woodstock. Thursday, October 23, is the last day on which war memorial designs will be accepted as the Design Committee will meet in the Town Hall on the evening of the 23 to begin preliminary selection for the design to be used.

Soups Give

Cheap Nourishment

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Staff Writer

Soups with milk, vegetables and fat provide low-cost protein, vitamins and a sense of eating well. That "good eating" sense is important in menus restricted by the high cost of many familiar foods.

Here are two good soups from Fannie Engle's practical cookbook.

Potato and Parsley Soup

(Serves 4)

Three medium-sized potatoes, 3 cups boiling water, 2 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1/2 tablespoon butter or other fat, 1/2 tablespoon flour, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 2 cups fluid milk or equal parts evaporated milk and water, salt, pepper.

Wash, pare and dice potatoes; cook until tender in the water with the salt. Put potatoes through a ricer or sieve; save the water. Pan-fry onion in butter or other fat; stir in flour and blend well; add 2 cups potato water and stir until smooth. Add the potatoes, parsley and milk. Heat. Add salt and pepper to taste. Serve at once.

Corn Chowder

(Serves 4-6)

One-half cup finely diced potatoes, 1/4 cup diced celery, 3 cups boiling water, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 2 tablespoons butter or other fat, 1 cup chopped fresh or canned corn, 1/4 cup tomato juice, salt, pepper, 1 cup evaporated milk.

Cook potatoes and celery in boiling water until tender. Do not strain. Fry onion in butter or other fat until yellow and add to potatoes and celery. Add corn, tomato juice and seasonings. Cook slowly 15 minutes. Add milk and bring to boiling point. (The tomato juice may be omitted.)

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Stewed apricots, fried oatmeal, syrup or honey, enriched toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Corn chowder, soda crackers, apple and celery salad, bran muffins, fortified margarine, cheddar cheese, tea, milk.

DINNER: Tomato juice, split and broiled frankfurters on toast, chutney sauce, broiled tomato halves, parsley boiled potatoes, celery, rye rolls, fortified margarine, grapes, coffee, milk.

Bail Is $15,000

Tampa, Fla., Oct. 15 (AP)—U. S. Commissioner Paul Pinkerton yesterday raised to $15,000 the bond for Louis D'Andrea, 31, New Rochelle, N. Y., held here for the F.B.I. under charges of armed robbery and kidnapping. The increase in bond from $5,000 was made at the request of the U. S. attorney of Philadelphia, officials said. D'Andrea is charged specifically with robbing a tavern in Malvern, Pa., of $165 September 20, and forcing three men to accompany him to Newark, N. J. D'Andrea, who made no plea at his preliminary hearing, was convicted in 1937 of breaking and entering in Fort Pierce, Fla., for which he was sentenced to a year in prison.

though State Department officials refused to discuss the report, or sources said a White House announcement of the resignation was expected soon. Perhaps the Clayton was said to have given wife's health as the reason for quitting.

Pavement Striping
Experiments Tried

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 15 (AP)—The State Public Works Department announced today further experimental use of "reflectorized" pavement striping as a traffic safety measure at night.

Success of the experiments, on the Albany-Rensselaer bridge and on several Buffalo area highways, will determine whether the system will be employed on a state-wide basis, the department said. The reflectorized striping is achieved by impregnating white highway paint with "millions of tiny beads," the department said. The beads act as reflectors, making highway lines more luminous at night, especially in fog or rain.

The original test striping, installed on Long Island roads two years ago, "still retains a high degree of reflectivity," the department said.

The pictorial material is organized under four categories: Government, Religion, Art and Literature, Civic and Private Architecture. Included are the color reproductions which appeared in Life of the paintings by Titian, Veronese, Giorgione and Carpaccio; also photographs of St. Mark's, the Doge's Palace, the Sansovino Library, Palladio's Church of San Giorgio Maggiore, and portraits of Vittoria, Sansovino, Titian, Arétino, Tintoretto, an Aldus title page, views of various private palaces, the Rialto, the Colonnade, the Grand Canal, etc.

These words from Oldsmobile's new "radio song" have never been so aptly illustrated as in a typical ride to a football game. There's often a long distance to be covered. There's always traffic to contend with. Yet, if you're the driver of an Oldsmobile with Hydra-Matic Drive, you can... "Just forget the clutch and gear. All you do is sit and steer!" That's true in football traffic, or any other traffic. True on the highway, too. Hydra-Matic Drive takes care of all gear shifting—automatically—through four forward speeds. And the clutch pedal is eliminated completely!

What makes it even more impressive... this will be the ninth football season in which Hydra-Matic Drive has enabled Oldsmobile-owning fans to go to the games the easy way. GM Hydra-Matic Drive is a fully perfected, fully proved feature—and there's still nothing else on the market to compare with it.

Oldsmobile introduced Hydra-Matic Drive 8 years ago. Today, Oldsmobile is still the lowest-priced car to offer it. Add to this Oldsmobile's traditional style-leadership—plus Oldsmobile's all-round, fine-car quality—and you'll see why so many football fans are Oldsmobile fans as well. You'll agree that...

levitate this very dangerous condition, but up to the present time nothing has been accomplished. The village, the death toll will continue to mount. There have been a number of serious accidents from the bridge north of Port Ewen to a point a mile or so beyond the village, and I respectfully suggest that the Safety Commission make an investigation immediately to see what can be done to remedy the condition.

I realize that traffic must be kept moving, but the hill at the south end is an invitation to motorists and truck drivers to "let her go" and "let her go" they do. They go uphill because when they reach the Kingston Bridge there is a bottle neck and it seems to me that there should be some way of curtailing the speed of motor vehicles passing through Port Ewen in either direction.

I have talked with some of the school authorities and they indicated that they have requested that something be done. Awaiting your advice with respect to this matter, I am,

Very truly yours,

JOHN T. GROVES,

THE MORE-THE-BETTER HOSTESS PARTY

The subject of the following letter is party-giving: "It seems to be a growing custom in this community for several women to band together and give one party. In fact, invitations from one hostess alone are becoming a rarity. I personally prefer several parties to one much more elaborate one, with nothing left over to look forward to for another day. However, I would like to know how you feel about this. It does seem to me that when the guest lists of each hostess are different, it brings together mixed groups of people who are not very congenial."

I agree with you all the way through. I like one-hostess parties best and little ones better than big, especially when these composite parties suggest the pieces of a patchwork quilt that do not fit together. On the other hand, if the friends of the hostesses are the same and together they can give a dance or other party that would be too expensive for one of them alone, this would be a sensible reason for several hostesses joining together.

Birth Announcement.

Dear Mrs. Post: Are the little birth announcements, which can be bought at any stationer, ready to be filled in, in good taste or must one order engraved ones? Answer: Whether to have the cards engraved with the baby's name and birth, tied to your own card, or whether to buy one of the varieties of announcement; published by manufacturers of greeting cards doesn't matter. They are equally proper. The engraved cards are more formal, but the picture cards are so appealing that it is no wonder many people prefer them. In other words, you choose whichever you like best.

Dinner and Supper

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you kindly explain the meaning of "dinner" and "supper"? I have heard both words used several ways and would appreciate knowing the correct usage.

Answer: The differences are in the menu and also in the setting of the table. White damask cloth, soup in plates with rims and roast, etc., indicate dinner. Table with mats, soup in cups, hash or stew indicates supper.

Mrs. Post has written a leaflet regarding the christening of the new baby. Ask for leaflet entitled, "The New Baby." ## Dinners Are Canceled

Washington, Oct. 15 (AP)—President and Mrs. Truman have canceled the annual state dinner at the White House this season "because of the urgent necessity for the conservation of food in order that our country may help to relieve hunger abroad."

Mrs. James Helm, White House social secretary, in making the announcement today, said the usual five state dinners will be held. She explained that the food for these events is confined to punch, cookies. Last year there were six state dinners—two for the diplomatic corps, a cabinet dinner, a dinner honoring the chief justice, and dinners honoring the president of the Senate and the speaker of the House. These dinners are elaborate affairs of several courses served with appropriate wines.

O'Dwyer Asks Controls

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—Mayor William O'Dwyer, saying that high food prices were endangering the health of the people of New York city, today asked the federal government to restore price controls and food rationing. His request was contained in a telegram sent to Charles Lusk, chairman of President Truman's citizens' advisory committee, in which he pledged the city's support of the government's food conservation program.

"With adequate supervision of such rationing and controls," O'Dwyer said, "food can be allocated to Europe by the national government and at the same time food can be assured for our own citizens at prices they are able to pay." The mayor added that "the responsibility rests with Congress and Congress should be prepared to face it."

Girl Scout Group Will Improve Camp Wendy for Next Year

Definite improvements on Camp Wendy, the Ulster County Girl Scout Camp at Wallkill, will be started this week according to Casper Souers, chairman of the camp committee. A meeting was held at the site Sunday at which time the following members were present: Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Guerrera, Mr. and Mrs. Casper Souers, Mrs. Donald Tinnie, Harry Eckler and Miss Hazel McElcay, executive director.

Plans were made for enlarging the "L" dock where the beginners swim. Because of lack of rainfall during the last six weeks, Lake Louise, which is on the Girl Scout property, is low and a study of the contours of the lake made possible an outline of changes in the bathing area which will be considered according to a long term plan.

Arrangements were made to fill in hollows beside the main dining room and changes in plumbing were planned to simplify camp dish washing.

Mr. Souers also reported that orders will be placed for additional tents, mattresses and other equipment to set up the additional (across the lake) unit which was not in use during the past season. Attending Camp Wendy this summer 190 girls came from various sections of the county, with every community, but one, sponsoring a Girl Scout troop being represented. In previous years 42 county campers was the high score at the camps according to reports. This increase is attributed to the current year's developments in the county program when an executive has been hired and a central office at 43 Crown street, Kingston, established. A definite trend toward the consideration of the summer camp as a valuable educational program throughout the county, may also be to some degree responsible for the large number of county girls in attendance.

Due to the condition of the lake and the fire hazard because of the dryness of leaves and grass, the camp committee suggests that the troop outdoor programs at the camp site be delayed until early in the spring at which time the water level is high enough so the county will be encouraged to attend Wendy for troop camping under trained leadership.

Women interested in serving on the staff at Wendy next summer are invited at an early date to get in touch with Mrs. Donald Tinnie of Port Ewen, or contact the Girl Scout Office, 43 Crown street, Kingston 1021-W.

Junior Red Cross Sends Gift Boxes to Foreign Lands; School No. 4 Hears from Greek Children

Junior Red Cross members in the schools of Ulster county have worked steadily for five years in packing gift boxes with school and health supplies and with small toys and ornaments to fit the need of children in schools abroad.

The Junior Red Cross members in Kingston Public School No. 4 received the following letter today from the members of the Junior Red Cross Group in a public elementary school in Polydendi, Greece.

"Dear Friends,
"All pupils of our school send you their brotherly greetings and many, many thanks for the nice school presents, by which you made us very happy.
"We are thought still happier for the chance we have to make the acquaintance of such nice children as you.
"We imagine you are quite different from us you must know many more things than we do because you live in big cities of a rich country; and we hope you will write to us something about your village.
"Our village is small with 50 houses in all on a hill full of trees. The houses are clean but out soil is not fertile and hence we are not rich. We are pleased to produce our bread and butter each year. All children though are quite happy and good friends; we are fond of all Greek children as well as of all children in the world as we all are Juniors. We are preparing an Album for you,
"This year the schools in Ulster County enrolled in Junior Red Cross are planning to engage in the following national and international activities: Christmas Decoration Units, Army Menu Covers, Gift Boxes, Production of Comfort and Recreational Articles, Holiday Favors for Veterans, International and Intersectional School Correspondence.

Carl Furillo, Dodger Series Star, Here Sunday With Shea

Carl Furillo, steel-armed, pinch-hitting World Series star of the Brooklyn Dodgers has been added to Frank "Spec" Shea's All Stars and will appear against the Hudson Valley Stars at Kingston municipal stadium, Sunday at 2 p. m., Fred Davi announced this morning.

Furillo's signing leaves one vacancy on the Shea squad and this probably will be filled either by Phil Rizzuto of the Yankees, or Buddy Kerr of the New York Giants.

When Barlick Called It:

Frank Shea's impending visit to the city with his major-league stars to do battle against a team built around City League and Hudson Valley aces recalls a story that involves the Yankees' freshman pitching star, and Charlie Keller and Al Barlick, who is rated the most colorful umpire in baseball. Fred Davi, promoter of Sunday's game, told the original version and has repeated it often.

It seems that Shea, then a comparative unknown in the Yankee chain, was pitching for Fred's Waterbury Brasscos against the Yankees in an exhibition game. Shea had compiled a fine record with Oakland in the Pacific Coast League but the front office wasn't paying too much attention to him. All of which rattled the pudgy Naugatuck idol more than little.

Shea Called His Shots:

Under ordinary circumstances Davi would have called on some other pitcher to face the Yankees—not one from their own farm system. On the bench he had Doyle Lade, Chicago Club rookie star of 1947, Junior Thompson and Johnny Taylor, the crack Negro flinger.

But Shea insisted in pitching. "Give me that ball," he told Davi, "I'll stop these birds."

Mr. Shea not only stopped his future teammates. He shut them out cold. But getting back to the story. The first time Keller came to the plate, he went down swinging. The second time up, again he struck out swinging. On the third trip the Maryland Mauler dug in, carried the count to 3-2 then watched a third strike go by. Mr. Barlick thought it was a strike and waived Keller out. The Mauler didn't think so . . . and quite a ruckus followed.

Finally, Mr. Barlick's patience was exhausted and turning to the thoroughly frustrated and overheated Mr. Keller he barked:

"Get up there and swing, Keller, this is the big leagues whether you think so or not."

Mr. Barlick could possibly have been guilty of a slight exaggeration. But Davi's team did whip three big league outfits that week. And Frank Shea came on to make the grade, didn't he?

Flotsam and Jetsam:

The 1947 bowling season rolled on the scene with a flock of low scores, generally tough conditions and pins below pre-war level. . . . Scores began to boom this week. . . . Dick Howard blasted a 663 Sunday. . . . Fred Rice had a 265 and 650 triple. Randy Kelder bopped 662 and Jack's Restaurant missed 1100 by a single pin. . . . Favorites should repeat easily in the Emerick Ladies' League, while the Colonial circuit will feature a dogfight between Smith Avenue Storage and Central Recs. . . . Hotel Ulsters are off to a flying start in the Major loop. . . . Rose Schatzel and Evelyn Moore appear headed for big seasons. . . . No rookie sensation yet uncovered, but young Phil Corrado is the best pocket shooter of the new crop. . . . Bob Hanley off to a great start in the Major. . . . Still one of the town's best but no longer interested in week-end kegging. . . . There has been a general return to sanity in handicaps. The phony two-way handicaps, popular when some of the promoters were "saving the game" for "the boys" have passed. . . . Could it be that some of "the boys" who were absent three or four years saved the game for bowling itself?

Of Men and Mice:

Syracuse's George Brown, conversion specialist, has successfully converted 23 in a row. . . . Kingston High School's line averages 176 pounds when Lou Fuoco operates at guard. . . . Heaviest man on the squad is Douw Meyers, Jr., who scales 216 pounds. . . . His prominent father, the physician-golfer, goes well over that poundage. . . . Other fragile specimens: Ed Weaver 200, J. Berryann 197, E. Landers 195 and C. Relyea 188. . . . "Stop Nicolette" is the K.H.S. battlecry this week. . . . The Port Jervis backfield star is rated among the all-time DUSO greats. . . . The East Kingston Rod and Gun Club will hold a dance at St. Liberata's Hall Saturday night. . . . The arrangements committee of Joseph Duncan, James Rua, Martin Saban and Francis Costa invites all county nitrods to the affair. . . . The East Kingston club already has purchased 65 cock pheasants and have on order 52 for the forthcoming season.

The fleeting quality of fame. . . . Monday headline: Chicago Bears UFSET Eagles. . . . Who remembers way back when the Eagles would have been just antipasto for George Halas' muscle men. . . . Williamson rates Ohio State, citadel of the Big Nine, no better than 112th in the national ratings. . . . Oh, dry those tears . . . in Columbus.

College Passers Set Brisk Pace

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—College football coaches are learning, it appeared today, that the surest way to push a pigskin toward the other fellow's goal is to throw it—provided you have somebody who can propel it in the proper direction and somebody else to haul it down.

This was indicated more or less clearly in the weekly statistics of the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, which show that the outstanding forward passers of 1947 are far ahead of their predecessors in the matter of accuracy and that all aerial records are in danger.

Rex Olsen of Brigham Young University, the leading passer at the moment in the number of successful tosses, has completed 51 forward passes in four games covering a total of 599 yards.

Behind him in the bureau's rankings come Charley Conerly of Mississippi with 46 completions, Norm Van Brocklin of Oregon with 38, Gene Bourdet of Montana state with 34, Johnny Rauch of Georgia with 30, Jimmy Bowden of Texas Mines with 27 and five others with 25 each.

Most of them have played four games, but Perry Moss of Illinois has completed 25 passes in three contests and Johnny Luck of Notre Dame has been on the throwing end of 25 successful pitches, although the Irish have participated in only two games.

The terrific pace being set in the aerial department is accentuated by the fact that Travis Tidwell of Auburn was leading the country at this point a year ago with 27 completions and that in the history of college football only two players have completed more than 100 passes in an entire season.

Wilson (Bud) Schwenk set the record when he hit 114 for Washington University of St. Louis in 1941 and Ray Evans of Kansas completed 101 in 1942. Tidwell completed only 79 passes last year when he led all the passers in the country.

Record in Jeopardy Olsen, or any of a dozen other aerial artists, could wipe out Schwenk's completion record as well as the mark of 1,457 yards gained on passes in a season—set by Davey O'Brien at Texas Christian in 1938 and tied by Schwenk in 1941.

As a matter of passing interest, Michigan's mighty Wolverines—currently rated the country's best—have averaged 248 yards per game on passes and 479.3 yards per game on rushing and passing to lead all teams in the nation on both counts.

The individual offensive leader for the second straight week is Bobby Gage of Clemson, although he picked up only five yards against North Carolina State. Gage has covered 651 yards on 93 plays in four games.

Pheasant Season 5 Days in County

The duck season in Ulster county will be a split season, the regional conservation office announced today. The season extends from October 21 to November 1, and then from Dec. 2 to Dec. 13.

Three-Year Title At Stake During Jamaica Meeting

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—Whether Phalanx or one of a half-dozen other contenders is the rightful claimant to 1947 three-year-old honors may well be decided during the 12-day autumn race meeting scheduled to open at Jamaica today.

Among the six stakes on the meeting's docket is the $25,000 mile and three-sixteenths Roamer Handicap which will be run on Saturday. Since this is the last race of the New York season exclusively for three-year-olds, its result will have considerable bearing on horse-of-the-year honors in the division.

Other eligibles for the event include W. M. Jefford's Loyal Legion, William Heisl's Cosmic Bomb and Miss Kim's Ridgewood Stable's Double Jay and King Ranch's But Why Not. For a time it was feared the Roamer would narrow down to a duel between Phalanx and But Why Not. The rest would have been excluded because of the ban on horse shipping into New York tracks, a precautionary move to cope with the New England swamp fever epidemic.

Dewey Pledges His Full Cooperation To Sound Program

Sends Telegram to White House in Reply to President's Request

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 15 (AP)—Governor Dewey has pledged the full cooperation of New York State's Food Commission "in any sound program" of the Citizens' Food Committee created by President Truman.
Dewey telegraphed the White House yesterday, his office announced, in reply to the President's request that all governors appoint persons to work with his committee in its campaign for voluntary food rationing.
The governor said the state's plans in the drive to help feed Europe would be sent to Chairman Charles Lockman of the national committee so that he could become "familiar" with them. Chief duties of the state commission, established October 3, are to disseminate nutritional advance and help farmers conserve grain and maintain maximum food production.
Dewey said last week in New York city that he hoped the President's program would become more "definitive."

Hoag Reminds That Housing Services Can't Be Stopped
In general, essential services of controlled housing accommodations may not be discontinued until written authority to do so is obtained from the area rent office, Charles C. Hoag, area rent director of the Federal Office of Rent Control, reminded today.
Tenants are as fully protected against curtailment of services under the Housing and Rent Act of 1947 as they were under the old law, Mr. Hoag said. They must receive the same services, furniture, furnishings and equipment as previously.
He pointed out, however, that although tenants who sign voluntarily a lease providing for a rent increase, no greater than 15 per cent, are still entitled to the same services and equipment, they may not apply for a reduction in rent if they do not receive such services and equipment.
"In such instances," Mr. Hoag explained, "tenants may start suit in any federal or state court to recover the amount of the overcharge, which such a decrease may constitute. The amount is determined by the court. The landlord may also be liable for penalties of $50 or three times the amount of the overcharge, whichever is greater, in addition to reasonable attorney's fees and costs."
He said that tenants who do not sign a lease may still file with the area rent office an application for a reduction in rent if essential services are reduced.
